

But what does Awareness actually mean?

>> The term "awareness" stands for consciousness and mindfulness. It means treating each other with respect and appreciation in order to reduce discriminatory and violent situations. The aim is to create a safe environment in which everyone can feel comfortable and personal boundaries are respected. This can only be achieved if both organizers and visitors develop an attitude that counteracts discrimination and violence. Awareness should promote consensus-based action and dismantle structures of exclusion and inequality. <<

(Source: initiative awareness, translation via DeepL.com)

For more information & contact options scan QR-Code above :)